

A Minute on Monday

Monday, March 8, 2010

Today is mine and Terry's 30th wedding anniversary. Goodness. We asked each other yesterday, where have 30 years gone? It's 'poof' and they are gone.

I am so thankful that thirty years ago I was blessed with Terry, and I just know he is also thankful to have been blessed with me. LOL. We have had ups and downs in our marriage, but we have remained faithful to one another, continued to love and support one another through it all. Some times were harder than others to continue to love and support....some easier.

Fifteen years ago, I gave my heart and life to Christ. I am so thankful I was blessed with my salvation. I have had ups and downs in my spiritual walk, but God has remained faithful through it all. There have been times my heart just wasn't in it, I was just going through the motions, but God remained faithful. There have been times I thought I wanted to quit, said I was tired or burned out, but God remained faithful. There have been times when I've been on the mountain and thought nothing could ever discourage me again, and God was still faithful. I praise God that He is always faithful, though I may not always be.

*"It is good to give thanks to the Lord, and to sing praises to Your name,
O Most High;
To declare Your loving-kindness in the morning, And Your faithfulness every night"*
Psalm 92:1-2

Let's spend this week being thankful for God's faithfulness and remaining faithful to Him.
